

Cell phone policy discussed by school board

Daniel Richardson

Hickman County Schools Superintendent Casey Henderson received good marks at Thursday's meeting of the Hickman County Board of Education meeting. After careful evaluation of Henderson's performance as superintendent, members of the board agreed to rate his performance as "accomplished" in the area of instructional leadership, and "exemplary" in the area of cultural leadership.

Henderson wasn't the only one receiving praise at Thursday evenings meeting. Brooklyn Naranjo a second grader at Hickman County Elementary School and a member of Mrs. Frizzell's class, was lauded for her performance in the classroom. Naranjo, who was present at the meeting with her mother and teacher, was humble amidst the praise from Mrs. Frizzell, who said that she often sent the high achiever to fourth or fifth grade math classes in order to keep her challenged. Richard Todd, principal at the elementary school, said that school administration has to spend a lot of time working with students that may be falling behind, but noted that it is important that we recognize and continue to challenge those at the other end of the spectrum.

An item that demanded discussion at the meeting was a potential change to the schools' cellphone policy. Hickman County High School Principal Kevin Estes said that while Hickman County Schools have a more relaxed policy than that of surrounding districts, cellphones are still abused during instructional time.

Students are currently allowed to keep their cellphones on them while in school, but are only allowed to use the

Michael and Andrea Williford

Williford elected to KSA board

Andrea Schwartz Williford of Clinton was elected by her fellow farmers to represent them on the Kentucky Soybean Association Board of Directors at the recent Kentucky Commodity Conference. Williford is a resident of the Purchase Area, which is comprised of Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, McCracken and Marshall Counties. She replaces retiring director Davie Stephens of Wingo, who served the maximum of three, three-year terms as an area director.

Stephens currently serves as one of Kentucky's two American Soybean Association (ASA) directors at the national level.

Williford and her husband, Michael, farm approximately 5,000 acres of soybeans, corn and wheat as part of Hales Farm and are in the process of branching out with a farrow-to-finish hog operation under their own name, Williford Farms.

Andrea was also selected as a Kentucky Soybean Ambassador. The Soy Ambassador program is a two-year leadership development course which will enhance her skills not only on the policy/advocacy efforts undertaken by the Kentucky Soybean Association, but also the promotion, education and research efforts put forth by the Kentucky Soybean Board.

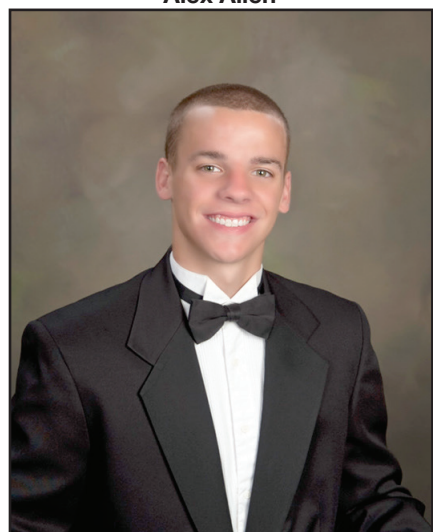

Andrea's husband, Michael Williford, is also quite active as a farmer-leader. He was recently appointed as Kentucky Soybean Board's alternate to the National Biodiesel Board.

Both of the Willifords recently attended the American Soybean Association's Soybean Leadership College in St. Louis, which provides opportunities for future and current soybean industry grower-leaders and state staff to learn how to engage soybean producers, consumers, legislators, government officials and media, to more effectively tell the story of agriculture.

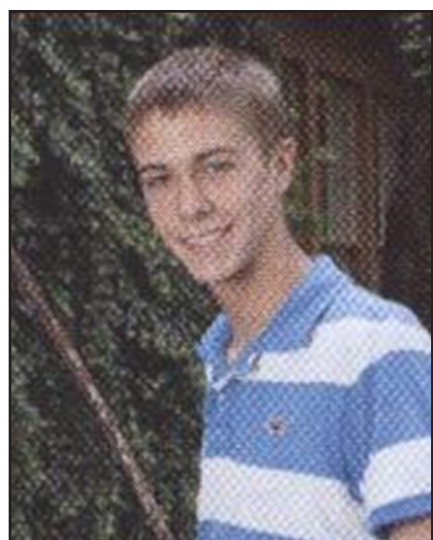

The Kentucky Commodity Conference is the annual meeting of soybean, corn and small grain growers in the state. For more information on soybean farming in Kentucky, visit www.kysoy.org.

Three local students on UK Deans List

LEXINGTON, Ky. (Jan. 14, 2015) – For the first time, more than 6,000 students have made the University of Kentucky Dean's List. UK has released its Dean's List for the Fall 2014 semester.

Three former Hickman County High School students were among the record high 6,366 students that were recognized for their outstanding academic performance. That's an increase of nearly 500 since Fall 2013 and nearly 900 more than Spring 2014. Local students on the list included Alex Allen, son of Mike and Lori Allen; Ryan Harpole, son of Mark and Marcia Harpole, and Joseph Kimbell, son of Bruce and Jeanna Kimbell.

To make a Dean's List in one of the UK colleges, a student must earn a grade point average of 3.6 or higher and must have earned 12 credits or more in that semester, excluding credits earned in pass-fail classes. Some UK colleges require a 3.5 GPA to make the Dean's List.

The full Dean's List can be accessed by visiting www.uky.edu/PR/News/DeansList/.

Bro. Tom Hoskins, shown here at the desk in his home study, has never owned a computer. He uses his manual typewriter for sermon notes and any correspondence.

Constant through the ages

Bro. Tom Hoskins's life has changed a lot over the past 60 years, but his technology has remained the same

Daniel Richardson

If you walk into the Hoskins residence in Clinton at the right time of day, you will hear a sound that hasn't graced most people's ears for the last 20 years. It's the clickety-clack of the Smith-Corona manual typewriter that Bro. Tom Hoskins has typed his sermon outlines on for the past 15 years.

In a world where research is done through online search engines like Google, and sermons are prepared with the aid of bible study software such as BibleWorks, Accordance, or Logos, and presented with the visual aid of a Powerpoint or Apple Keynote presentation, Hoskins sits at his desk in his small in-house study and refers to his Strongs Concordance and his collection of conservative commentaries and prepares his lessons each week. He drafts his sermons on notebook paper and then types an outline on his typewriter. He has never owned a computer, and never wanted one.

In contrast to most of society, his technology and method of study have remained the same through the decades as everything else in his life continued to change. In his 81 years on this Earth, Hoskins has pastored in five states and preached in many others, including sermons given in Guatemala and Belize. Through his pulpit sermons, newspaper articles, and 20-year radio program, he believes he has delivered as many as 6,600 lessons. And that is after a late conversion and beginning in ministry.

Hoskins grew up in Clinton before graduating from Central High School and heading to St. Louis during the Korean War to work at stove factory, which made bombs during his short tenure there. He came back home and farmed for a year before being drafted into the Army. The young draftee was assigned to a tank division at Fort Polk, La. after basic training.

RECYCLING SUCCESS

By 9 a.m. on Saturday, Henry Brazzell, left, was pretty happy about the load in the recycling trailer at the county barn yard, then one of the faithful young recyclers, Cody Teams, above, grandson of Calvin and Charlene Voyles, brought two five-foot-long bags of plastic to top off the load. And Cody and Mr. Calvin weren't the last of the recyclers that day, but more is better with this monthly collection, which saw 70 families, including churches and businesses, come by on Saturday.

phones during breaks and lunch – not during class.

“We’re losing instructional time,” Estes told board members.

He presented the board members with a report on area districts and different cellphone policies that can be adopted. He mentioned that when he was working in Ballard County, the students’ phones stayed in the locker while they were in class. Board members agreed that a similar policy might need to be adopted in Hickman County. Estes encouraged the board members to look at all the options and make a well-informed decision on a policy that will stay in place for several years.

Superintendent Casey Henderson reminded Estes and the board members that, in absence of a district-wide policy change, it would still be within Estes’ authority to make an executive decision to revoke the students’ cellphone privileges if he deems the action necessary.

It was discussed that in addition to a lenient policy, enforcement of the policy is not uniform across all classes, with some teachers being more lenient than others when it comes to cellphone use in their classrooms. It was mentioned that in many cases it is the student’s parents that send text messages during instructional time, distracting the students from their learning.

Boardmembers left with information and ideas with the understanding that a change to the existing policy may be made soon.

In other business, Henderson reminded board members that the Falcon Academy Sponsor Appreciation Luncheon will be held Tuesday, Jan. 27 at the Hickman County High School gym. He extended congratulations to Kayla Boaz, Stacy Fujisawa, Jade Florence, and Franki Richie for being selected for the All “A” Classic scholarship. These students had to travel to Frankfort for an interview process and were selected by a panel of representatives. They will go back to Frankfort during the state tournament for a recognition banquet and presentation of their scholarship money, which will be $1,000 for each student.

Hoskins

After fulfilling his two-year obligation, Hoskins left the Army in 1957 and attended Murray State College for one year, then went to Memphis, Tenn. to work for International Harvester’s Truck Division.

It was during his 16-year stay in Memphis that he married Dorothy, his wife of almost 52 years, and became a Christian. In 1965, the 31-year-old new Christian felt that the Lord was calling him into public ministry. He began taking night classes at Mid-South Bible College in Memphis while still working at International Harvester. In 1969 he pastored an inner-city ministry and in 1970 entered Mid-South Bible College full-time, and worked in the afternoons at a trucking line.

Hoskins’s home church, Fairline Baptist Church, asked him to be an associate pastor there, and he accepted. He also taught Bible at the Christian school that was affiliated with the congregation. During this time he received his Bachelor of Arts in Pastoral Ministry from Mid-South Bible College.

In 1974 he left his 16-year home in Memphis and became pastor of the First Baptist Church in Madison, Ark. During his time at Madison, he commuted the 35 miles back to Memphis and attended Mid-America Baptist Seminary, where he received his Master’s Degree.

Hoskins went to Biscoe, Ark., in 1979 to pastor the First Baptist Church there, where he stayed for 21 years. While at Biscoe, he did extensive correspondence work with Andersonville Baptist Seminary.

In 2000, Hoskins went to Albia, Iowa, for mission work, then returned to Arkansas the next year and became pastor of the First Baptist Church at Black Rock, where he only stayed one year and three months.

“I was looking for an opening because I was ready to come back home to Kentucky,” he says.

He found that opening at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church and returned to Hickman County after being gone for more than 40 years. He pastored at Mr. Moriah for three years and went to the First Southern Baptist Church in Cairo, Ill., where he pastored from 2005 to the spring of 2012, when he resigned due to his wife’s medical condition. He is still communing to Cairo on Sunday mornings to preach. Even when he left for Cairo, Hoskins knew he would return to Clinton before too long, keeping his house in Grubbs Subdivision.

“We stayed up there in Cairo from Wednesday through Sunday night, then would come back to Clinton until the next Wednesday,” he said.

He continues to write columns each week for the local newspapers, which he has done for the past 36 years at the various places where he has worked. While in Arkansas, he had a radio ministry that he continued for 20 years.

In modern times, it is becoming increasingly difficult for Hoskins to find suppliers for typewriter ribbon and paper. He says he will use one for a while, then they will quit carrying the supplies and he has to find someone else. He has been using his current Smith-Carona typewriter for the past 15 years. He has another one in the garage just in case something happens or it wears out, but it hasn’t, despite daily use.

“It’s just a way of life for me,” Hoskins says of his mid-20th century technology, “everyone says it’s been a hindrance, but I don’t see how.”

Change for the Community now accepting applications

The Change for The Community committee is currently accepting applications for funds that will be awarded in February.

If you know of a nonprofit organization in the counties that Hickman-Fulton Counties RECC serves, please have a representative of the organization contact Hickman-Fulton Counties RECC to request an application.

Applications will be accepted through January 31, 2015 and will be reviewed in February to see who the funds will be disbursed to.

The Change for the Community program receives its funds by HFRECC rounding up its members’ electric bills to the nearest dollars. The change is then added to the Change for the Community fund to support organizations in the counties that Hickman-Fulton Counties RECC serves. Past recipients of the funds were local senior citizens centers, rescue squads and organizations that provide food and clothing for people in need in our communities.

Financial Aid Workshops at HCHS

At this time we have a 90% completion rate of the FAFSA by our current senior class. The last 10% of this class have made or are making other arrangements for completion. Therefore we are cancelling the last FAFSA workshop that was originally scheduled for January 29th as it has been deemed unnecessary. Former graduates enrolled in college are reminded that they must also fill out a FAFSA each year and this needs to be done as soon as possible because the state grant money will probably run out before the end of January. Please feel free to contact the guidance at the high school if you need assistance with the FAFSA (270-653-4044).

EDITORIAL/OPINION

Letter to the Editor

To the editor:
I deeply regret that we had no other observance of the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. holiday last week than holiday from school and from some people’s work days.
Moore’s Chapel Church has long given leadership to the march and service in Clinton marking the importance of Dr. King’s life’s work for better life for all Americans, and I have been privileged to help with the planning and carrying out that observance for a few years.

This year I fell short in helping with that leadership, and I pledge myself not to let that opportunity pass again.
The work is not done in achieving the dreams and goals of Dr. King to provide equal opportunity for all Americans, all races, creeds, faiths, ethnicities, and beliefs. The work is ours to continue.

I invite others to talk with me, see me in town somewhere, call 270-627-0907, or e-mail me, tcjpyron@directv.net. We cannot deny the importance of remembering and moving forward.

Invasion Day

While a lot of countries celebrate Independence Day, Australia has a different National celebration (well for most, while for others it is a day of remembrance of sorrows of their people. Australia celebrated Invasion Day on Monday, Jan. 26 to commemorate the British invasion in 1788.
The Aboriginal people call it a Day of Mourning. I watched a video Monday morning about the history of the first Australians: <http://www.programs.sbs.com.au/firstaustralians/content/>. It is an eye-opening documentary of life in Australia among the Aborigines when the first British explorers sailed to the coast of what is today known as the city of Sydney.
Watching this video led me to think of the European explorers who colonized America. Where did they get the authority to go wherever they chose on this earth and take the lands and change the lives of those who were already there?
What about all those islands in the Caribbean and elsewhere around the globe? I am thinking of the French West Indies, the Dutch West Indies, the US Virgin Islands and places like that. Did explorers who landed there and “discovered” those islands start doing as they please, disregarding the sanctity of life and the culture that already existed?

The “First Australians” documentary showed British ships bringing prisoners from their overcrowded prisons and hoisting the British flag on Australia’s shore, claiming it for Britain.
They promised the aboriginal people that they would be able to sustain their own lives and put them on reservations much like America did the American Indians. Those reservations became smaller and smaller to where they were basically non-existent. The aborigines were turned into slaves.
What if that practice were allowed to continue today? What if a country with masses of people and resources like China chose to invade the U.S. and push Americans back into shrinking regions? How would we feel?
Seeing that Australia was celebrating Invasion Day, or “Australia Day” aroused my curiosity as to exactly what it was. Honestly, I had heard of the aborigines but had never thought about “first Australians” before.
I suppose our “Invasion Day” was Columbus Day. Or maybe it could have been the American Revolution had we lost that war.
Life would certainly be different for us all.

Generating passive income

It’s a smart buy!

Dear Dave,
I’ve been following your plan, and I’d like to find a way to make a little more money on the side.
Do you have any ideas for generating some passive income?
Taiwan

DAVE SAYS

DAVE RAMSEY

Dear Taiwan,
First, I want to make sure you’re not getting involved with some get-rich-quick scheme, like a nothing-down real estate seminar. “Passive income” is a term that’s sometimes attached to those sorts of things.
Passive income is pretty simple; it’s income off of investments. In other words, it’s money you set aside that makes you money. There’s not any other income that is real passive income.
If you wrote a book and got royalties from the sales, some people would call that passive income. I get royalties from the books I’ve written over the years, but the people who would call that “passive income” didn’t follow me around while I was working my tail off to write and sell those things. To me, it wasn’t passive income at all; it was a business. Technically, the government would call it passive income. But they don’t have anything to do with reality.
When it comes to passive income, I only invest in two things — real estate, for which I pay cash, and good growth stock mutual funds. Active income usually takes the form of a small business idea or your career. That’s income that you, yourself, are literally creating.
But that’s how I look at that stuff. Some people may have a different view on it, but I like to keep things simple.
—Dave

Dear Dave,
I’m following your plan and trying to find different ways to save money. What’s a good way to decide whether or not you need full-coverage insurance on an automobile?
Barbara
Dear Barbara,
I think you should look at a couple of things. First, you need full-coverage or collision if you don’t have a lot of money, because you’ll end up walking if the car gets totaled. You need this coverage even if it’s a $2,000 car. You might keep the deductible a little high to save on premiums and then, if something unexpected happens, you can cover the out-of-pocket expense with your emergency fund.
Let’s say you have $50,000 in savings. You’re driving a $5,000 car, and you decide to drop collision coverage because you’re thinking if you total it you can just write a check and replace the car. You can, but then you have to look at the other side of the coin. What does this collision coverage cost per year versus the $5,000 risk you’re taking?
I’ve run those numbers a few times, and generally I find collision insurance to be a pretty smart buy!

The U.S Department of Labor announces $4.5 million grant to assist employees of Paducah Gaseous Diffusion Plant

The U.S. Department of Labor today announced a $4,598,681 National Emergency Grant for the West Kentucky Workforce Investment Board (WKWIB) to assist workers and their families impacted by the closing of the Paducah Gaseous Diffusion Plant (PGDP).
Sheila Clark, West Kentucky Workforce Investment Board Director, stated “The grant will enhance our services to individuals and positively impact the economy by enhancing and showcasing the skills of this competitive workforce. This award was possible because of the support of our regional partnerships, collaborating agencies, and the continuing supportive efforts of Senator Mitch McConnell and Representative Ed Whitfield, along with Senator Rand Paul.”
“We need skilled workers in western Kentucky and this is the opportunity we have been waiting for with training dollars,” said Dr. Barbara Veazey, President of West Kentucky Community and Technical College. The college will assist in providing training for the grant. “With this grant, workers and families in our community will be able to earn a certificate or a degree to make a better living for themselves or their families if they make the choice to step out and take advantage of this funding and go to college. We have the people to guide them in the process and get them started, so this is an important announcement.”
The grant awarded to WKWIB will expand offerings to former employees of the PGDP and will provide training for their spouses. “Workforce Development is the #1 issue in economic development. This grant will allow us to continue our path forward giving our citizens the opportunity for employment in growth sector industries in our community,” said Scott Darnell, President of Paducah Economic Development.
Paducah Area Community Reuse Organization (PACRO) stated that the PGDP provided high paying jobs for decades in this region. “This grant will allow us to transition those skill sets and opportunities to create a stronger economy and employment opportunities in the PACRO Region,” as noted by a PACRO official.
Of the $4,598,681 announced today, $2,170,658 will be released initially. Additional funding up to the amount approved will be made available as the WKWIB demonstrates a continued need for assistance.
The long-awaited grant is performed in collaboration with the Kentucky Education and Workforce Development Cabinet. A formal funding announcement will occur in the next few weeks.
The point of services for individuals is the “Career Solutions Community”, www.careersolutionscommunity.org, reachable by phone at (270) 534-3914.

Second Baptist Church News

By Teresa Walton Pearson

January 25

On Wednesday night our business meeting was held and another family joined the church.

Sunday morning John Hill gave the Sunday school devotion from Ecclesiastes 3 “To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven”. John asked “Do we need to all just get along, like some folks say?” Verse 8 says “a time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.” He said not when it comes to biblical issues. We must stand for what the Bible teaches.

Bro. Dustin's message was from John 12: 1- 8. He said Judas followed Jesus for three years and yet didn't know him and trust in him. You can follow along like some church members but still not know Jesus. Bro. Dustin asked, “What is your soul worth?” Judas sold his soul for 30 pieces of silver, what have you sold your soul for? Matthew 16: 24 says to deny self, take up your cross and follow Jesus. Your soul is going to one place or the other, Heaven or Hell. Where is your soul going?

Sunday night we had Fourth Sunday Night Singing and two were baptized, then a Mexican potluck meal with some very unique and delicious Mexican fare.

Please pray for: Teen Garrison, Dorothy and Bud Brady, Thomas Dublin, Jim Schooley, Larry Cagle, Dorothy Hoskins, Bud & Mary Jane Martin, Monty Clark, Jimmy Johnson, Deloris Spurlin, Bill Carter, Nancy Puckett, JoAnn Malone, Debbie Kilpatrick, Richard Puckett, Cathy Howell, Pam Upshaw, Tim Connell, Dorothy Rogers, Edna Roper, Billy Lamb, Bro. Rocky James, Emma Barkley, JL Feezor, Bill Carter, Josephine Shadwick, Helen Holmes, Josh Harpole, Austin Upshaw, Mildred Morrison, Eloise Harrison and the Truman Johnson family.

At Second Baptist we believe that “everybody is somebody and Jesus is everything.”

Visitors are always welcome at Second Baptist Church. Sunday School starts at 10am. Worship service is at 11am. Sunday night worship service is at 6 pm. Wednesday night 7 pm. Pastor Bro. Dustin Cunningham.

I can't believe that January is soon coming to a close and February is just around the corner.

Happy birthday wishes to Dianne Hancock Sheppard on the 30th, Larry Reed on the 31st, Danny Kelly on Feb 1st, Greg Stairs and Melinda Reed on the 2nd, Mark Ladd on the 4th, and to my husband, Terry on the 5th. Happy anniversary wishes to John Wayne and Kim Jackson on the 4th. May you all have a great day!

Remember the upcoming joint Valentine's Day banquet hosted by the Mt Zion Church to be held at Southern Red's on Mon., Feb. 16. If you would like to attend call Katie Beck or Linda Lawrence as reservations are needed in advance. This is a great time of Christian fellowship!

You have a special invitation to attend the weekly Bible study at the Wesley Church held on Tuesdays at 4 p.m.

Two classes on calligraphy will be held one at Fulton, the first week of February and the following week in Hickman. For more info call the Fulton County Extension Office at 270-236-2351.

Life is a walk. Each day of our lives we take steps through the choices we make for our lives. Some are baby steps and others are giant steps. The steps that we take today determine our tomorrows. The Christian walk is a struggle from beginning to end because we must deal with the troubles we encounter in this world. Despite discouragement, it is important for us to forge ahead and keep walking with Jesus. 2 Corinthians 5:7 says “For we walk by faith, not by sight.”

Our prayer concerns include Linda Lawrence, Jaxon Mullins, Tammy (Harold) Jackson's mom, our nation and leaders, the shut-ins, nursing home residents, our youth, our sister churches, and our military.

Our Christian sympathy to the family of Shannon Deaton, a 1993 graduate of HCHS. Also to the family of Truman Johnson. Have a blessed week!

SENIOR CHATTER

Lets put our best foot forward! Come and support the Senior Center! Did you know as a senior you can help us by having your blood pressure checked, participating in an exercise program , eating lunch with us, so many other things you can do to help!

We mentioned last week about a basic computer skills class. Here are some of the topics we can help you with. Some as simple as turning on the computer, writing a letter, arrange family pictures into a file, setting up an email account, send and receive emails, how to search a chosen topic or a given topic. Facebook is big on social media, we can help you get you a Facebook account too! If you have a need or concern, please let us know by calling the Senior Center.

CLOSING CHURCHES

THE WILDERNESS VOICE

are closing by the hundreds reflecting the rapid weakening of the faith. The hardest hit are Christian churches. Orthodox Judaism has held steady while Islam has grown. The church of England closes about 20 churches a year; some 200 Danish churches are nonviable while Germany has closed 515 churches in the last decade. The Netherlands are the worse. The Roman Catholic leaders expect as many as 1065 of their 1600 churches to close in the next 10 years, and 700 of Holland's Protestant churches expect to close in the next four years.

American churches struggle like a drowning man now, but the future looks more dismal. Although 5000 new churches were added between 2000 and 2010, the churchgoers are a graying population and churchgoers as a whole are declining. During the above period of new church starts the actual church attendance in America fell 3% and the situation in the U.S. is expected to be as bad as that in Europe in 30 years or less. The trend is set and only a mighty visitation from God can change it.

What is happening in our land? We have turned from God and become corrupt nationally. I believe sodomy, same sex marriage, may be the last straw for our land. Our president, the highest office of the land, supports a Supreme Court ruling to make it the law of the land. Our president, the highest office of the land supports a Supreme Court ruling to make it the law of the land. We are like Israel in the wilderness. “They sinned yet more against him by provoking the most High in the wilderness” (Psalm 78:17). Why? “Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation” (verse 22). They were consumed with their lust (verse 30). How long do we have? Only God knows that. But anyone who can read or be read to can know this for sure, “Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man sows, that shall he reap also “ (Galatians 6:7).

America, Repent!

New Hope Missionary Baptist Church News

By Wanda Powell

On January 15 New Hope Missionary Baptist Church celebrated Youth Day. Noah Ferguson led the congregation in singing “There Is Power In The Blood”, “At The Cross” and “At Calvary”. Andrew Ferguson read from Psalm 47 “For God is the King of all the earth; sing ye praises with understanding”. Brother

Jim Boaz preached from Exodus 2:10. “And the child grew, and she brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter and he became her son. And she called his name Moses: and she said, because I drew him out of the water. If you take what Jesus offers, there is no excuse for backing away. God is gracious to his people. God will help you overcome your problems. Put your faith in Jesus. He will answer your prayers. It was a real good sermon.

Conner Lomax san a beautiful song, “Oh, Say Can You See By The Dawn's Early Light”. His song touched everybody's heart. Conner is a good singer and a very talented artist. Kathy McClure sang a beautiful song “It Was Enough That You Shed Your Blood To Save Me”.

Pray for those who are sick, Ernie Ferguson, Mary Burpo, Teresa Ferguson, Jimmy Kelly and uncle Sam. Pray for our boys in the military and for those who are in nursing homes. Please pray for our Missionaries, Carrie and Darrel Powell. They will be going on their trip in February to Puerto Rico. Pray for Jeremiah McCarty to have a safe trip home.

May God bless each and everyone.

The 2015 Kentucky Soybean Association executive committee includes (l-r) Larry Thomas, secretary; Fred Sipes, treasurer; Jed Clark, vice president, and Mike Burchett, president.

Soybean Association elects new officers

Members of the Kentucky Soybean Association elected officers for 2015 during the board meeting held in Bowling Green on January 15.

Mike Burchett of Calloway County was elected president. A grower of soybeans, corn and wheat, he has been on the association's board since 2007 and has been active in the legislative affairs of KSA, serving as chairman of the legislative committee for several years.

Jed Clark of Graves County was elected vice-president. Clark grows soybeans, corn wheat and tobacco. He was elected by his peers to serve on the association board in 2011 and has moved up the ranks in leadership.

Larry Thomas of Hardin County will serve as secretary for the upcoming year. Also board member since 2011, Thomas owns and operates BLT Farms near Elizabethtown.

New to the officer team this year is Fred L. Sipes of Meade County. Sipes grows soybeans, corn, tobacco and wheat in addition to running a cow/calf operation.

Other directors include Dennis Clark of Sedalia, Keith Tapp of Seabee, Davie Stephens of Wingo, Gerry Hayden of Calhoun, Ryan Bivens of Hodgenville, Caleb Ragland of Magnolia, Mike Fouts of Bowling Green, Ben Westerfield of Hopkinsville, Eric Sweazy of Bloomfield, Allen Pace of LaCenter, Craig Roberts of Princeton, Scott Bridges of Cadiz, Brent Gattton of Bremen, Barry Alexander of Cadiz, Jeff King of Corydon, Jason Strode of Owensboro, Tim Thomas of Sturgis, Jonathan Miller of Island, Ray Hughes of Auburn, Andy Alford of Bowling Green, Brennan Gilkison of Winchester, Chris Kummer of Franklin and Andrea Williford of Clinton.
